Also Taking Measures to Have the Primary Law Obeyed, Now That Viola-tions Are Likely to Be Punished —General Committee to Call Conventions.

Tammany's Executive Committee met sterday afternoon and discussed the resolutions that are to be introduced at the eting of the General Committee on Thursday evening. These resolutions are the st pacific that have ever been drawn Senator Thomas F. Grady, and they are ended to make all of the men who want to be Democrate but who would not have anything to do with an organization bossed Tim Sullivan and Frank Farrell think hat the proper thing for them to do is to get into the Hon. Lewis Nixon's automo-bile and ride with him. The resolutions were drawn a week ago and they have been subjected to several changes as the ituation changed. The Committee on sesolutions and correspondence which drew the resolutions was instructed to take care to put into them all the reasons why persons should join the organization and to have them ready for the General Com-

Another matter that will come before the General Committee at its meeting will be the amended rules drawn by a committee appointed by President Van Hoesen mittee appointed by President van Hoesen last December. This revision of the rules was made necessary by the fact that the managers of Tammany made up their minds that the best thing for them to do was to comply with the letter of the Primary law. Hitherto the committee has done about as it pleased, regardless of the law and no one has questioned its actions, for the authorities that passed on them were all friendly to the Hall. Now the Tammany was avect to be held to a strict accountamen expect to be held to a strict accounta-bility for everything that they do, and everything is to be run exactly as the law

One of the things that the law provides that the General Committee of a party in a county shall call all of the conventions and primaries, and this is one of the provisions that Tammany has never complied with. The Executive Committee has always attended to all this work.

Tammany men said yesterday that they regarded this as a matter of a good deal of importance, for they said that the right to call conventions had been one that the Executive Committee had regarded as its own for a long time. The leaders said that they did not know how the new plan would work, for they thought that with the hand of Mr. Croker withheld from immediate punishment of an offender some of the members of the General Committee might try to be smart and take

Every one shook hands with Mr. Nixon and told him that he was a great man, and the au-tomobile "Junior" which stood at the entrace to the Hall was surrounded by a great crowd all the time the meeting was in ses-

JILTED MAN'S REVENGE.

Forbids the Marriage of Another Man to the Girl He Loves.

EAST CANAAN, Conn., Feb. 8 .- Nelson J. Brewer, a blacksmith, last evening inserted this advertisement in a Winsted newspaper Notice-I learn that invitations are out or the marriage of Clinton Chapin and Miss mma J. Warner of East Canaan, Conn., o take place on Monday, Feb. 10, 1902, therefore wish to announce, in order that the prospective bridegroom may have full knowledge, that this same Miss Warner and myself became engaged to be married and myself became engaged to be married in April, 1901, and that the engagement still exists. At least, it has never been cancelled of broken in any way known to me, and I further forbid the marriage of said Clinton Chapin and Miss Emma J. Warner taking place.

NELSON J. BREWER.

Brewer ordered copies of the paper conhas been engaged to officiate for his plan to stop the wedding. After he left Higgins's office he said that his scheme was, in case the bridal pair disregarded the advertisement and other warnings, to go to the Warner home, where the wedding is to take place, and when the officiating clergyman asks if there was any one who had any reason to offer why the wedding should not take place, to come forward and state his objections, and dare the clergyman to pronounce them man and wife under the circumstances.

Mr. Warner, the girl's father, said to-day: "The wedding will take place. If Brewer makes his appearance near our house he will be forcibly removed."

When this was told to Brewer he said: "I know my legal rights. No wedding is binding that does not allow the presence of a man who wishes to protest against it. I shall take a constable with me to make sure that I am allowed my right to be present and protest.

"I have half of the town of Canan on my side and I don't intend to be shelved for this man Chapin. I cannot stand aside quietly and see my girl married to another.

"I presume I got the mitten because I left the Warner house last August and went to board at Mrs. L. W. Feffinwell's. I made the change to be nearer my work. Since that time my love affairs have not run smoothly. Miss Warner never informed me that she wished to break our engagement. The next thing I learned was that Miss Warner's sister-in-law's brother. Clinton (hapin of East Longmeadow, Mass., ment. The next thing I learned was that Miss Warner's sister-in-law's brother, Clinton (hapin of East Longmeadow, Mass., was calling on my betrothed. Two years ago Mrs. Warner refused to allow Chapin to call on her daughter. They tried to keep the coming marriage from me, but falled."

TOOK PASTOR FOR BURGLAR. Policeman Let Go Quickly When He Discovered His Prisoner's Identity.

The Rev. Arthur Newton Thompson, estor of the Westminster Presbyterian Church in Summit avenue, Jersey City, entered the church about 1 o'clock one recent morning to light the gas stove in his study so the room would be a comhis study so the room would be a comfortable place in which to work later in the day and was spotted by a policeman who had been warned to keep a sharp watch for the gentlemen burglars who have been operating lately on the Heights. The policeman drew his revolver and followed the clergyman into the church. He waited patiently for Mr. Thompson to come out of the study and then he grabbed him.
He released his hold just as quickly when

"I WILL COMPLAIN"-DEUEL. Magistrate Angry Because Policeman Who

Made Arrest Was Not in Court. Herbert J. Lycett, who lives at the Park Avenue Hotel, escorted a woman from the Arion ball at 4:30 o'clock yesterday morning. He was helping her into a carriage when he felt some one reach for his hip pocket, where he had a pocketbook with $225 in it. He turned quickly and brushed an ugly-looking fellow, who showed fight. A uniformed policeman arrested the man suspected, who said he was Thomas Leroy, 25 years old, of 123 East Thirteenth street. When Leroy appeared before Magistrate Deuel in the Jefferson Market police court vesterday, the policeman who arrested him was not present, nor did his name appear on the complaint.

"I am tired of this kind of business," exclaimed the Magistrate to Detective Sergeant Burke, who came with the prisoner. "You know very well that that policeman was required here. This way of doing things must stop. If it happens again, I shall make a complaint at H.adquarters. This case is adjourned till to-morrow, and then that policeman must be on hand." ing.
